A RAILROAD JOKE.—The Bridgeport Standard (Conn.) says that on Tuesday afternoon the officer on duty at the depot at that place received a telegram dated at Norwalk, requesting him to have a minister at the depot on the arrival of the 2.32 Boston express, as there was a couple on the train who wanted to get married. The telegram was signed by a gentleman well known to the officer, and upon its receipt he at once set to work to secure the presence of a clergyman at the depot previously to the arrival of the train. It was nearly due, and no time was to be squandered in the useless ceremony of trying to save expense. The officer called a hack, and seating himself therein ordered the driver to proceed with all possible haste to the residence of Rev. Mr. —, a well known clergyman. He being absent another and finally another was sought. At last the Rev. Dr. — was found and hurried off to the depot, where he had hardly time to compose his thoughts before the train came thundering along. While it was yet in motion the author of the telegram leaped from the cars, and running up to officer A., informed him that the couple were in the rear car in waiting. There was not much time to lose, and to the rear end of the train the official and minister sped with almost the celerity of light. Arnold entered the car at one end and Dr. — at the other. With solemn tread they proceeded along the aisle until they met near the center of the car. The Doctor scanned the passengers closely, and finally inquired of the officer which the couple were. "I think this is the couple," said he, pointing to a young man and young woman who occupied a seat near him. The clergyman advanced toward them, and in a clear slow voice said: "Are you the couple who desire to be married?" They made no answer, but appeared to be utterly confused and dumfounded. They turned all sorts of colors, and the minister began to think there was a mistake somewhere. By and by the whistle sounded and the train left for New Haven, carrying the lady and gentleman along with it, while the officer and minister stayed behind. The affair was then explained by the gentleman who had sent the telegram and who had witnessed the whole joke, as follows:—The couple had attracted a good deal of attention on the passage by their affectionate kisses and embraces, and he concluded to play a trick on them that would be beneficial to them. Hence the telegram. He gave the minister $5 for his trouble, and also paid the expense of the hack, and in that way squared the joke.

Mr. Josiah Billings again philosophizes thus: Eight won't go into six and have much or any thing left over. Menny a yung feller has found out this sum in arithmetics by trying to get a number eight foot into a number six foot.

Virtue, in one respect, is like mummy. That which we have to work the hardest for, sticks to us best.

Men of phew but active brains have the best executive abilities. Their brains are like a bull's—coumpack, and go strate for the bull's eye.

Affektashun never improved enny body yet. It is better to be a devil than a hypocrite. I have often heard that was men who knew more than they could tell, but I never met one. I have often met those who could tell a grate deal more than they did kno, and was willing to swear to it besides.

To be proof against flattery, a man must have no vanity, and such a man never existed; if he did, he is one of the lost rats.

Hope has made a grate menny blunders, but like—she means well. Sum people are good simply because they are ten lazy tew be wicked, and others, because they aint got a good chance.

There is one thing I am not only certain, but proud or—there is more people in the world who have changed from bad to good than from good to bad.

In munny interest follows the principal; in morals principal often follows the interest.

You will notice one thing—the devil seldom offers to go into partnership with a buzzy man, but you will often see him offer to join the lazy man and furnish all the capital.

HIS OWN GRANDFATHER.—Sometime since it was announced that a man at Titusville, Pennsylvania, committed suicide for the reason that he had discovered that he was his own grandfather. Leaving a dying statement explaining his singular circumstance, we will not attempt to unravel it, but give his own explanation of the mixed up condition of his kindred in his own words. He says:—

"I married a widow who had a grown up daughter. My father visited our house very often, fell in love with my step daughter and married her. So my father became my son-in-law, and my step daughter my mother. Sometime after my wife had a son; he was my father's brother-in-law and my uncle, for he was the brother of my step mother. My father's wife, that is my step-daughter, had also a son; he was of course, my brother, and in the meantime my grand child, for he was the son of my daughter. My wife was my grandmother because she was my father's mother. I was my wife's husband and grand child at the same time; and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather, I was my own grand father."

That this was a strange condition of things it must be confessed, but we can see no possible reason why it should cause a man to commit suicide.

A pretty good story as to the inventive abilities of the editor of the Springfield Republican has been going the rounds of the press and deserves to be recorded among the archives of the reading room. The gentleman is a farmer as well as an editor, and his hens refuse to awake at "cockcrow," the reason being that in countries as cold as New England the hens are apt to roost an hour or two after the sun rises. In order to remedy this state of affairs the editor of the Republican has hit upon an ingenious "invention" which will add largely to the value of poultry throughout the country. This invention consists of a patent hen-roost, the peculiarity of which is that there is an astronomical contrivance attached to the roost, by means of which the slumbering hens are gently tumbled off their perch exactly at day break. It may be reasonable to work with other bibles. It is a little ground for believing that the distinguished gentleman referred to has actually patented any such contrivance.

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.
The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constipated, sometimes alternating with laxity. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved, and the liver with.

DR. JOHNSTON.
Physician of this celebrated institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effective Remedy in the world for all DISEASES OF IMPUDENCE.
Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling, Dizziness of Sight, or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the songs of the Sirens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, &c.
YOUNG MEN.
Especially, who have become the Victims of Solitary Vice, and dreadful and destructive habits which annually sweep to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entered listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or walked to extasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.
Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness (Loss of Procreative Power)—Impotency—Nervous Excitability—Disinclination—General Debility, or any other Disqualifications, should apply to Dr. J. M. Johnston, who places himself under the care of Dr. J. M. Johnston, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.
ORGANIC WEAKNESS.
Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored.
This distressing Affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgence. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption Decay and Death.

DR. JOHNSTON
Member of the Royal College of Surgeons of London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and New York. He has been the recipient of the most successful cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears, who, when seen, were nervous, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.
TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.
Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, uniting them for either business, study, society or marriage.
These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dizziness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.
MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirit, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to society, Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.
Thousands of persons of all ages now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, and the journey of life becoming a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with their own.

MARRIAGE.
Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conjugal happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey of life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with their own.
DISEASE OF IMPUDENCE.
When a misguided and impudent votary of pleasure, finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this fatal disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed dose of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to a skilful and experienced physician, and he is left alone to his own devices, believing that the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, dimmed vision, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dizziness of sight, blotches on the skin, face and extremities, profuse sweating with frightful rapidity, till at last
